

ARIZON™
Air, Frame,
Tension Structures

Expos and Arenas

For the past 45 years, air-supported structures have been utilized for a variety of temporary, permanent and custom specified applications.

Air structures have been utilized for expansion of existing businesses, to accommodate large influxes of orders, as traveling pavilions for major marketing programs, for exposition centers to accommodate additional exhibitors or entire trade shows, as emergency replacement of damaged or destroyed facilities, and many other supplemental building uses.

All of the above are examples of Arizon™ Air Structure solutions to our customer's needs.

Arizon™ continues to offer custom products and designs to adapt to business challenges worldwide.
